Set the Course Run Schedule and Pacing in Studio

After you determine the start and end dates for a course run, and whether you want your course run to be self-paced or instructor-paced, you specify these settings on the Schedule & Details page in Studio.

To set dates and times for the course and for course enrollment in Studio, follow these steps.

Note: EdX recommends that you verify all important dates in Studio one week before you plan to start the course.

1. On the Settings menu, select Schedule & Details.
2. In the Course Schedule section, replace the placeholder dates and times with your own information.

   When you make changes on this page, a panel with options to save or cancel your work appears.

3. Select Save Changes.

Note: The times that you set are in Coordinated Universal Time (UTC). You might want to verify that you have specified the times that you intend by using a time zone converter such as Time and Date Time Zone Converter.
